I've left a couple messages and haven't heard from you so I'll try email. At the Falcon Refinery we're likely going to start hauling away the contents of the tanks in the next three weeks. We gauged just under 7 million gallons of waste and plan to have the waste deep well injected at the Texas Molecular injection well in Corpus.

Also, I've mentioned that we would like to landfarm grossly contaminated soil in a cell that we construct. The cell would be one acre in size with a clay base and then a synthetic liner and two feet of clean fill. I can send you plans for the cell and the location.
